THE MOTHER IN WAR-TIME!

WAR!

This timely discussion on the subject of National Service, for and against, will, in the light of current events, be read with eagerness by every Englishman, deeply interested as all are in the question of Home Defence. In this Booklet, THE BLACK HOUR, Mr. Coulson Kernahan, as a Territorial Captain and an intimate friend of Lord Roberts, represents the case from the military standpoint, and Prof. Moulton ably voices the views of those who see no necessity for universal training in preparedness for war.

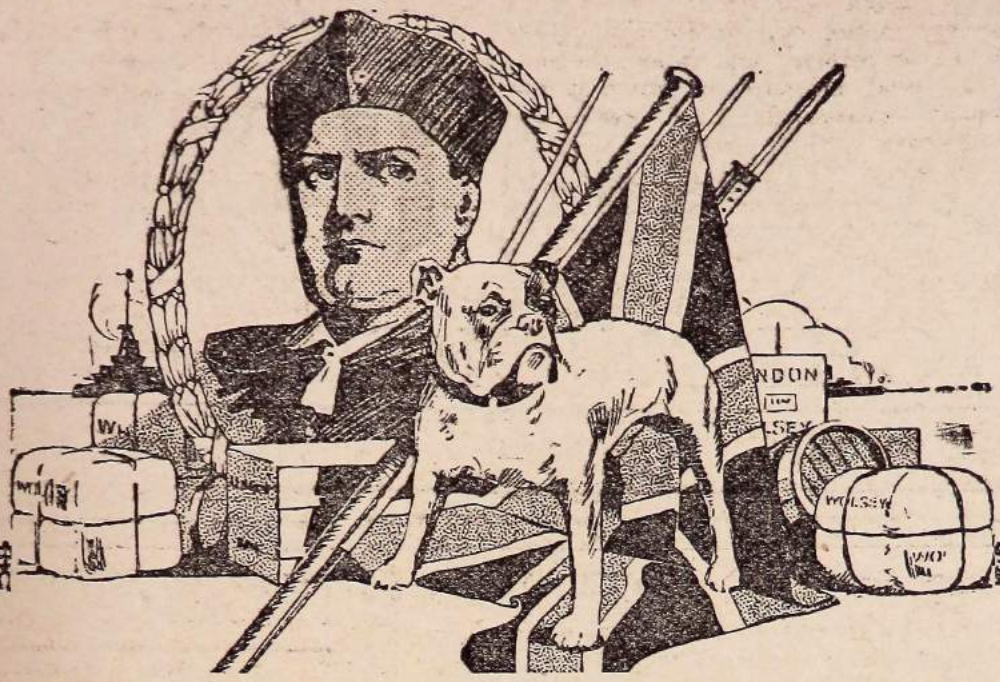
"FORGOTTEN!"



Wolsey is British !

TO every Briton worth the name the day of German Underwear is past. Wolsey, with its British honesty of manufacture, of material and of value, reigns in its stead.

For German underwear—branded or otherwise—has rarely shown its buyers other than a spurious advantage; seldom has its "cheapness" meant economy; never has real wisdom warranted its choice. Patriotism apart, search round the world, you will never find a better made, better fitting, better wearing, better value garment than a Wolsey garment, nor one on which you can more wholeheartedly depend. So many have already found this true that Wolsey sells more widely than any other brand of underwear.

A gift of Wolsey garments to the wounded, the refugees, or our brave fellows away on land or sea, will—these cold days—be more welcome than ever.
