JOHN WESLEY'S
NEW ROOM

The Visual Story of John Wesley's New Room

Let's prepare for our visit….

When we arrive

There are two entrances at John Wesley's New Room, one on the Horsefair and one through the Broadmead Courtyard.

The Horsefair

The Broadmead Courtyard

Places we might see or go to

Chapel

Shop

Library

Café

Education Room

Museum

People who can help us

Chapel volunteers

Library volunteers

Museum volunteers

Shop volunteers

Café volunteers

There are volunteers ready to help us at different places around the building. All of the staff and volunteers will be wearing lanyards or badges.

Other people we might see

Flower arrangers

Special events volunteers

Maintenance volunteers

Staff or Group leaders

There might be lots of people helping around the building or visiting so it is important to stay with your group

Things we might hear or be surprised to see

Organ playing

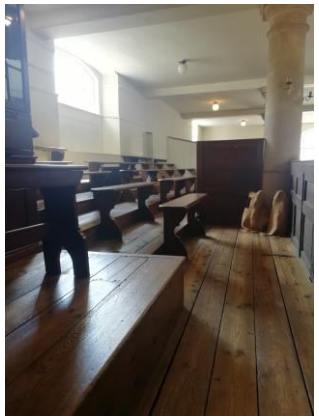
A pretend horse in the stable with noises and smells

Low level background music in our café

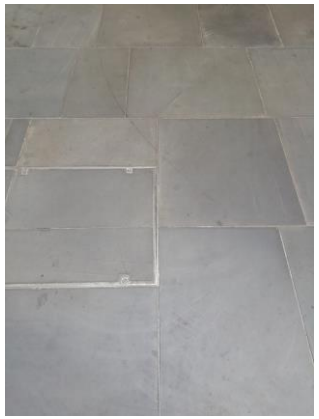
A school group

Singing

Some places might feel different



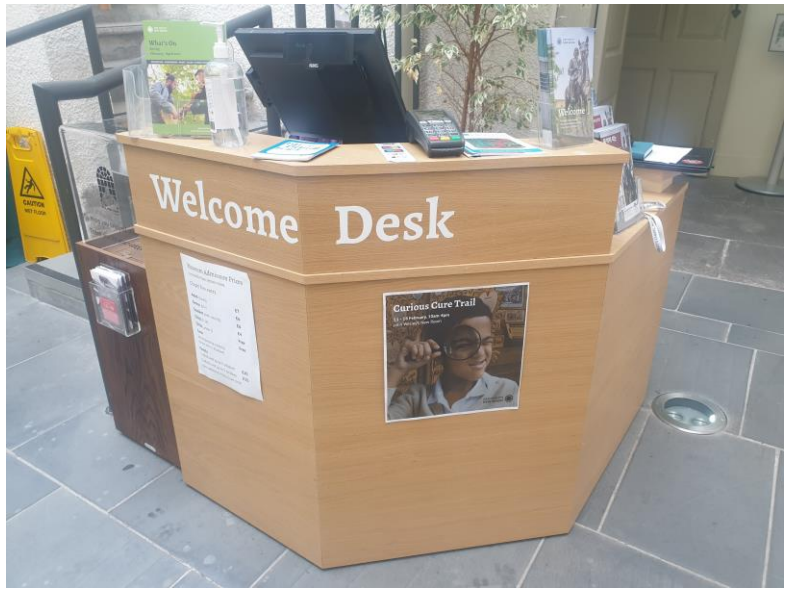
Light and open or dark and narrow



Harder or softer to walk on

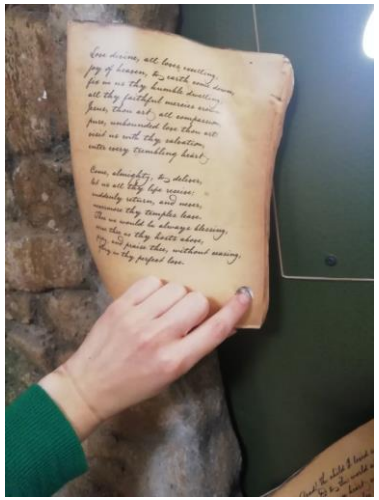
Steep or flat

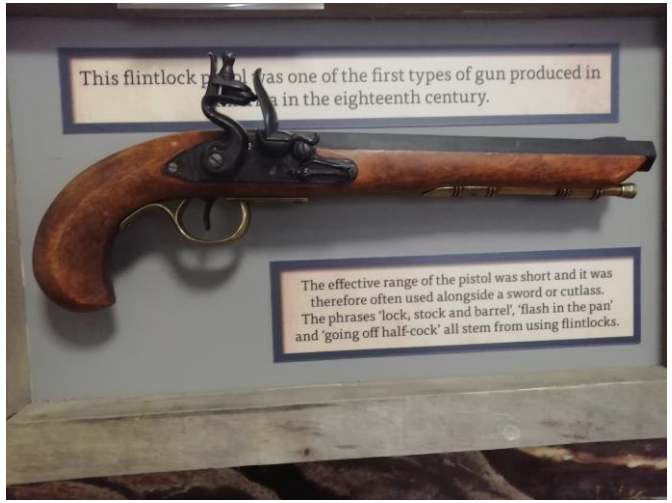
Going to the Museum



Before we enter the museum we will buy our tickets at the welcome desk on the ground floor

Things we might see or touch when we are inside the Museum



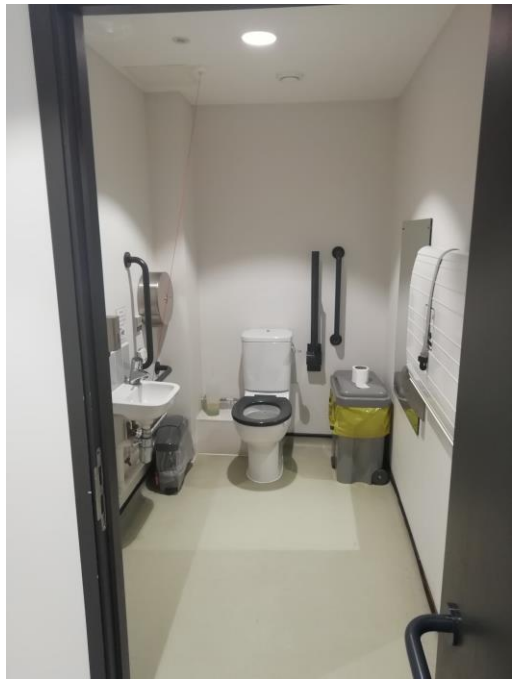


A pretend gun

We will find lots of flaps to lift up and buttons to press. We will see some pretend models of people.

We may find some items which make us feel sad. These objects help us learn about the history of slavery and war.

Useful places



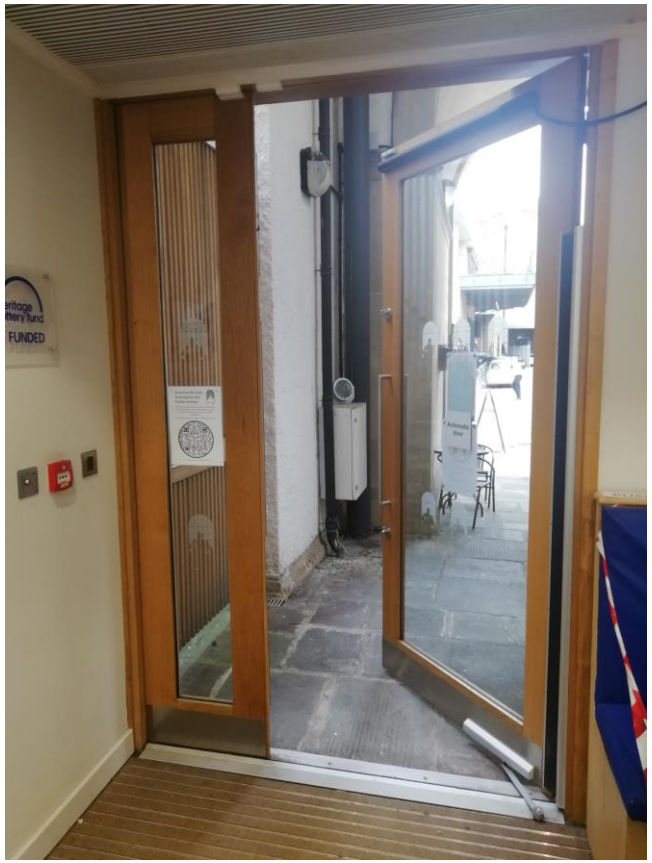
Toilets

Stairs

Lift

If we hear a loud alarm it is time to stand still and wait calmly for someone to tell us what to do next and where to go.

When it is time to go home



The Horsefair Exit

The Broadmead Exit

We will make sure that when we leave our group is all together.

Useful information

If you would like further information to help you plan your visit please call 0117 9264740.

The New Room
36 The Horsefair
Broadmead
Bristol
BS1 3JE

info@newroombristol.org.uk
www.newroombristol.org.uk

what3words address: ///flops.media.robots

JOHN WESLEY'S
NEW ROOM